Why Not Organize for the Community Chest in City?

It is to be hoped that all the organizations of the city will join in a movement for a Community Chest for Glendale. The Glendale Credit association started the ball rolling in its meeting last Monday, when its president, Owen Emery, recommended that all the members study the proposition and be in a position to deal with it in an intelligent way, when it is again presented.

The Glendale Press has discussed the Community Chest plan of giving several times. We, ourselves, after giving the proposition considerable study, are absolutely sold to the plan.

THE constant soliciting of funds for the different organizations not only takes considerable valuable time, but makes it difficult to reach any proposed budget. An intensive, every-citizen drive once a year will increase the individual giving and is more efficient in many ways. The rapid growth of the movement is a recommendation. It has already been tried and found successful.

While a great amount of individual support has been given the inaugurating of a Glendale chest, for some unaccountable reason the different organizations have hesitated over giving it a start. Now that the credit men are studying the plan, the other organizations will, without doubt, join hands and put the plan in operation this fall.

IN response to our announcement in yesterday's edition, that we would start today a Candidates' Column, several communications have been sent to us.

We would recommend that you read these communications—it will aid you in selecting the two candidates to vote for on next Tuesday. Other communications will probably come to us for tomorrow's issue.

THE Glendale Daily Press is throwing this column open to the candidates. It does not limit the space.

Incidentally, the column, "Voice of the People," is everybody's column. If you care to discuss a topic of interest to our readers, write us. In writing, be sure to sign your name, for anonymous communications have little weight and will not be printed.

THE Glendale sewer proposition, now before the city council of Los Angeles, the Los Angeles city council will do a service to not only Glendale and several San Fernando towns, and in addition will be doing a direct service to a portion of its own city.

All of these are strong arguments in favor of favorable action, but the sanitary proposition is more acute to Los Angeles than the other considerations.

Taken as a whole, best judgment would dictate favorable action without much delay. What will be the answer?

CANYON WATER CO. POSTPONES MEETING

Trouble Develops Over
Election of Board of Directors

On account of disagreement by the board of directors and stockholders of the Verdugo Canyon Water company at the meeting of that organization Tuesday noon, the meeting was postponed for two weeks. The trouble came over the attempt to elect a new board of directors to serve for the ensuing year.

The present directors of this organization are William Reeves, J. F. McIntyre, P. Dederich, Dwight Stephenson, representing the city of Glendale, which holds a majority of the stock, and G. B. Woodbury, J. C. Sherer and W. E. Evans, representing the minority stockholders.

REEVES ASKS SUPPORT FOR ARTICLE NO. 7

Urges Exchange Club Also to Endorse the Airport
Purchase

CITY GROWTH TOLD
Building Superintendent
Vandewater Predicts
$10,000,000 Year

The Glendale Exchange Club considered itself fortunate in having as its guests and speakers on Wednesday several city officials, viz., City Manager Reeves, City Engineer Dupuy, City Building Superintendent Vandewater.

Mr. Reeves, who spoke first, talked about the two ballot propositions which will come before voters at the municipal election. He appealed for votes for No. 7 which will make possible the giving to the Glendale Post of the American Legion of the abandoned reservoir site at the head of Louise street for a legion home. He declared the boys deserve this, that quite frequently the general public is inclined to forget what they did overseas.

"What we do for them now," said he, "is almost insignificant in comparison with the sacrifices they made for us."

His second appeal was in regard to the purchase of acreage on San Fernando Road for an airport. "The city bought the land primarily," he said, "for the water which could be developed on it. It is very essential that the city insure an abundant supply of water, and an addition of the airport will give millions of dollars of advertising to Glendale."

The city engineer spoke very briefly about the work of his department declaring that every complaint reaching his office receives consideration, one copy being posted in the office, the other sent to the foreman on the job. The department also superintends work on streets in private subdivisions, he stated.

Building Superintendent Vandewater told of the tremendous growth of Glendale, how in 1920 the permits amounted to $3,000,000, which was increased to $5,000,000 in 1921, and to a still larger figure in 1922. He predicted before the close of the present year the issuance of permits aggregating $10,000,000.

Another guest of the club was J. E. Jellich, whose talk gave a clear insight into the cement industry. He recited its history and the process required to reduce the rock to powder in order that it may be used for commercial purposes.

He said there are 115 cement plants in the United States representing an investment of over $300,000,000. The construction of roads was also touched upon.

ARTICLE SEVEN IS ENDORSED BY THE SPANISH VETS

Endorsement was given by the Spanish War Veterans' last night to Article No. 7 on which the people of Glendale will vote next Tuesday, this having to do with the sale of a piece of city property located in the northern part of the city to the American Legion for $100. The vote was unanimous.

A committee was appointed to arrange for an all-day picnic to be held at Verdugo park some time during the latter part of this month or early in May. This committee is expected to report at the next meeting of the organization.

Mr. Stowe, 452 Pioneer drive, was accepted as a member of the body.

GLENDALE DAILY PRESS APOLOGIZES TO H. B. COURTNEY OF THE SO. CALI- FORNIA GAS CO.

H. P. Courtney, of the Southern California Gas company, was erroneously reported in part of today's issue of the Glendale Daily Press, as being in the county jail on various charges, instead of G. H. Crandall, whom Mr. Courtney, as representative of the Southern California Gas company, had so reported to the local police department.

Every effort was made by the Glendale Daily Press to catch the error before the issue was completed, but some of the papers were on the street before the error was found.

Of course, Mr. Courtney is so well known in Glendale that the error was obvious to those who have lived any length of time in Glendale. But for the information of those who have not been here long, the Glendale Daily Press wishes to correct its error in so far as it may.

The error occurred in the Glendale Daily Press office, where the similarity of names caused some confusion, but not sufficient to offer, even then, a real reason.

The error just happened. It won't happen again.

GLendale BURGLAR
HID $15,000 IN
WIFE'S HAT

[By Associated Press]
PASADENA, April 5.—Jewels to the value of $15,000, at least $7500 worth of goods concealed in her hat, have been found by the police on the person of Ann Edmondson, 19 year old wife of Harry E. Edmondson, daylight bandit who was slain during a running fight with officers here on Tuesday.

The girl-wife was taken into custody by detectives on her arrival here from Lincoln, Neb., late yesterday afternoon. She has denied knowing of the criminal career of her dead husband.

She declared to Chief of Police Charles H. Kelly, that jewelry found in her hat when she was searched at police headquarters had been given to her by her husband as gifts.

Thousands of dollars worth of loot recovered from the rooms of Edmondson in Glendale, is at the police station here. It completely fills one room in the city hall.

G. H. Crandall is Much-Wanted Person

G. H. Crandall, who the police claim is wanted in Glendale for burglary, is now in the county jail, where he is being held on a charge of forgery and grand larceny, according to a report made to the local police department by H. P. Courtney of the Southern California Gas company.

This report, according to police records, has been confirmed by the county jail clerk. A stop order has been issued to hold him until the local police can send the burglary warrant into Los Angeles. The matter has been referred to Officer Royle.

LEGION MEN CALLED TO BASEBALL PRACTICE

Members of Glendale post, No. 127, American Legion, are asked to turn out for baseball practice tonight at 4:30 o'clock at the diamond at Wilson avenue and San Fernando. The announcement that the winning team in the American Legion league of Southern California would be given a trip to San Francisco and the northern part of the state, with all expenses paid, is proving a big incentive in arousing interest among the Glendale members.

SHRINE CLUB IS ENTERTAINED BY H. L. LEAVITT

Brilliant Musical Program Is Given by Local Artists

A brilliant musical program was furnished last night for the Shrine Club of Glendale, which met at the Pearl Keller Studio, through the courtesy of H. L. Leavitt of Mecca Temple, New York. A large number of nobles were present to hear the rendition of solo numbers and duets by such artists as Mrs. Teodora Wisniewska, coloratura soprano; Miss Iva Hanners, lyric soprano; Ella Faggoli, dramatic tenor; Harry Hahn, baritone; and Harry Nielsen, pianist.

Mme. Wisniewska, whose voice has created a sensation in musical circles and is being widely acclaimed by critics, was given an ovation by the nobles, who stood up and threw their fezes in the air and applauded her vociferously. Harry Nielsen's performance on the piano was a revelation and received a tremendous applause. He is a pupil of Percy Grainger and Sigismund Stojowski of New York. Duets from "Paisi" and "Carmen" were rendered in a most finished manner by Miss Hanners and Mr. Faggoli.

Miss Hanners has an exceptionally beautiful lyric soprano voice and Mr. Faggoli is a talented dramatic tenor.

Another sensation of the evening was created by Harry Hahn, who possesses a beautiful and extremely powerful baritone voice. Both Mme. Wisniewska and Miss Hanners are pupils of the famous prima donna soprano and vocal teacher, Mme. Felicia Romanowska of 405 West Windsor road. The artists were invited by Mr. Jackson to be guests of honor at the Shrine Club dinner-dance to be given Saturday night at the Tuesday afternoon clubhouse, where they will repeat last night's program.

At the business session, which preceded the program, with D. Ripley Jackson presiding, plans were perfected for the dinner-dance.

VALLEY CHAMBERS SEEK L. A. ACTION ON CITY SEWER

Line Up With Glendale
in Application for
Right-of-Way

That the city council of Los Angeles give its approval to a plan of Glendale, whereby this city would construct a 48-inch main from a point in San Fernando valley, in exchange for the privilege of using the outfall sewer of Los Angeles to the sea, was the request made yesterday by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando valley, through its president and secretary.

This stretch of sewer, it was pointed out by the officials of this organization, would be used by practically all the cities of the San Fernando valley and Eagle Rock, and would hasten the supplying of sewage disposal facilities to those sections.

After careful consideration this communication was referred to the finance committee of the council, to which the other communications regarding this sewage problem have been referred.

Consumers' Contest Reaches Stage of Keenest Rivalry

Enthusiastic rivalry was displayed this week by contestants in the Consumers' Contest, details of which appear in this issue.

A flood of labels gave Raymond Hall, 348 Burchett street, the lead this week over Dana Van Loon, who occupied the coveted place last week. Raymond's total vote is 438,700 against 280,230 for Dana. Eugene Fisher, 613 West Doran, wrested third place from Mrs. W. H. Harpster, 708 South Porter street, with 137,200 votes against Mrs. Harpster's 130,400.

A new contestant, Donald Morrow, 516 West Doran, astounded contestants with an entrance vote of 76,400.

A special prize, offered by the Facilities Baking company, for the most flawless wrappers brought in by a single contestant for the past week was won by Robert Trowbridge, Jr.

REALTORS
LEGISLATION

Will Fight Against Three Measures Before the Legislature

POOR LEGISLATION
Regulate Rents, Heat and Enforced Rental to Those With Children

At its meeting Wednesday noon the Glendale Realty Board went on record as opposing the following bills that will come up before the legislature during the present session and agreed to inform the representatives of this district to this effect:

"There are three bills before the legislature aimed at apartment houses. The first makes it a misdemeanor to refuse to rent an apartment to an applicant with children. This must be killed. Destructive children might ruin the finest apartment house on earth."

"The second compels owners and managers of apartment houses to maintain a minimum of 70 degrees of heat 24 hours per day, 12 months in the year. Any person found violating this act will be fined not less than $1000 nor more than $5000, or by imprisonment in the state prison, or both. When the heat is 103 in the shade, the law still requires that the furnace be kept going. Scientists agree that 58 degrees is the perfection in climate. And a person who goes out of a room heated to 70 degrees into the cold air is apt to get into trouble, running all the way from a cold in the head to pneumonia."

"Number three takes away from the apartment house operator the right to make his own rate for rentals and places this power in the hands of the railroad commission to be adjusted upon a 12 per cent basis."

"Anyone who knows anything about apartment houses returns and what constitutes a proper rental, knows that before a 5-cent piece of interest is paid on the capital invested, there must be first paid out 3 per cent for taxes and insurance, this varying in different cities; from 2 to 3 per cent for depreciation, depending on whether the building is brick or frame; 2 per cent for repairs, 1 per cent for vacancies, 1 per cent for management, not to mention the cost of the wear and tear on the owner's nerves—10 per cent in all."

"In other words, the 12 per cent gross return would leave 2 per cent net. Whoever no one will rent unless he gets 8 per cent net at least, which means 18 per cent gross. This bill is so absolutely absurd that it should be defeated on a basis of the 12 per cent referred to alone. But there is a higher reason still."

"Reducing returns below a basis where they pay a fair return to the owners means the stopping of building immediately. And with this comes congestion and crowding and ultimately still higher and higher rentals. Either this or no building."

"There are two other bills known as the housing bills, one introduced by Senator Burnett and the other by Senator Jorman. Another by Assemblyman Roberts amends the present law and makes it possible to get a non-paying tenant out within a reasonable time, and with reasonable cost. The amended bill will provide for ousting a tenant at once, but leaves the way for the tenant to recover should he have been mistreated or injured."

"The present law permits the tenant to remain 30 days before action can be taken to oust, and another three days may elapse before possession of the apartment may be had. This bill appears to be too drastic. But there should be some way of getting a non-paying tenant out before he has gotten into the landlord as far as he can at present."

RICH OSAGE OIL EARL OF CARNARVON LEASES DRAW MILLIONAIRES DIES OF BLOOD POISON

Bid Millions Like Dimes in Little Theater at Pawhuska

[By Associated Press]
PAWUSKA, Okla., April 5.—How many ever heard of the Constantine theater in Pawhuska as a gathering place for multi-millionaire captains of industry?

The oil kings of America and their representatives formed the audience there today. The play was for leases to probably the richest undeveloped oil lands in the country. The event was the twenty-first lease sale of the Osage Indian nation.

Thirty-two thousand acres of land were being offered for lease, tract by tract, to the highest bidder. The richest Indians in the world.

The sales mounted during the morning. Belief was expressed by Indian agency officials and oil men that the $10,887,000 record auction of June last year might be bettered.

Today's sale attracted the largest number of oil millionaires in the history of the auction and a number of tracts placed on the block were said to be among the most valuable offered. The sale got under way with the arrival of the oil men from Tulsa by special train. They came from all parts of the country, many accompanied by bankers.

An official touch was given the auction by the presence of Hubert Work, secretary of the interior, and Mrs. Charles H. Burke, commissioner of Indian affairs. Senators Robert L. Owen and J. W. Harrell, and other government officials.

Not the least picturesque feature was the presence of a delegation of copper hued Osages, on hand to watch the money roll in. Figures that would make the lay person dizzy, are dealt in quietly and without any particular concern. Colonel E. Walter of Skedee, Okla., official auctioneer for the land, wields the hammer and in loud tones calls for the bids.

Some one suggested that the brewer of fictional need not have been driven toward nervous prostration in spending a million a year here.

With one nod of his head at an Osage sale he could have spent it all and more. And in return he might have obtained the right to drill on a tract that will never show anything but dry holes.

The twenty sales prior to today brought into the treasury of the Osages a total of $68,715,976, representing leases on more than 600,000 acres. Besides, the Indians collect a royalty on all oil produced. The average income of each man, woman and child from the 2200 allotments of the Osage tribe is approximately $10,000. The lands have been allotted to individuals, but all rights were reserved as tribal property and are sold as such for the common benefit.

Hence, if oil is found on the property of one Indian, he is no better off than his fellows in the tribe who hold allotments where there is no production. Average production in the 15 Osage pools is now nearly 100,000 barrels a day, according to J. George Wright, Osage agent.

Colonel E. Walter has conducted the Osage sales since the first in 1912. Little jumps of the bidding scale at a hundred thousand a clip mean nothing to him. In monotonous tones he calls "what am I offering? Nine hundred thousand dollars, who'll make it a million, and so on.

The composition of the silent oil kings as they spend a million or more with a slight nod of the head is the wonder of the visitor. The heavy bidders sit about the house studying maps, faces marked like masks.

On the most valuable lands the bidding goes in leaps of $100,000 until the turning point is reached, when it drops to jumps of $50,000. In the record sale of 1922, the Cynsco oil company paid $10,400,000 for a tract of 160 acres.

The sale is held in Pawhuska as the capital of the Osage nation.

TOLL OF THE SEA OPENS AT THE GLENDALE

The announcement of the presentation of the first Technicolor motion picture in natural colors, "The Toll of the Sea," scheduled for the Glendale Theatre today, April 5, should prove a powerful magnet for people interested in natural color photography. The new process by which "The Toll of the Sea" has been done is, according to authentic advance statements of competent critics, the fullest development of the long sought-for invention which makes possible the presentation of people as they really appear in actual life.

The principal inventor of the Technicolor process is Dr. Daniel F. Comstock, a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and foreign institutions. For seven years he and his co-workers have given research to the problem, and the result of their experiments is shown in their first picture.

AUTOS CRASH HERE

Automobiles driven by John L. Booth, and a person whose name cannot be learned, collided at the corner of Western and San Fernando road at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Little damage was done.

Lady and Earl Carnarvon, from their most recent photograph, taken in Cairo

[By Associated Press]
CAIRO, April 5.—The Earl of Carnarvon, discoverer of the tomb of Pharaoh Tutankhamun, died early today at a hotel here after a stubborn battle against blood poisoning and pneumonia following the bite of an insect.

Although medical science will attribute the Earl's death to such an accident as might befall anyone, who entrusts himself to this climate, there are thousands of natives who firmly believe that the vengeance of the Pharaohs was vented upon the explorer who sought out the treasures of ancient Egypt. Superstition has it that he who enters the tomb of an Egyptian monarch is doomed by a curse of the ancients and consequently the Earl's illness was pointed to as a fulfillment of the old legend.

There are also those who believe that the Earl, in his work in Tutankhamun's tomb, accidentally came in contact with a poison left there thirty-three centuries ago to safeguard the king in his last sleep.

CANDIDATES' FORUM

This department will be at the service of all candidates and their supporters for the city council for the expression of their views and the publication of their platforms, without charge, from now until the close of the campaign. The only condition attached to publication of matter in this column is that it shall be courteous, controlled by desire to benefit Glendale, and differences of opinion must be stated temperately, if argumentative. The standing of the candidates in the community, the personal sacrifices involved in serving the city would of themselves eliminate personalities, without this statement. Manuscripts must be typewritten and on one side of the paper. Brevity is the soul of argument.

Thomas D. Watson,

Dear Sir:—Qualifications as to fitness of candidates for the coming municipal election. It's not what a man has been that counts, but what he is today. So if its pedigree that's wanted, here goes.

Born in London, England, January 4, 1884; that makes me nearly 40 years young. Still feel fit and fine like an 18 year, older. Sang as a choir boy in Westminster Abbey over 50 years ago, an Oxford University education, served with distinction in the late South African Boer war with Lord Roberts, Kitchener, French and Baden Powell; came to this country over 20 years ago, taking out my first naturalization papers a week after landing, thus showing my good intentions by supporting the country where my bread was buttered. Have been and am now a 100 per cent American. Citizen over 15 years; retired after 15 years' active, successful business life in Glendale.

As a business man, I feel I can use the knowledge thus gained, for the town I live in, trying to curtail any extravagant expenditure of the taxpayers' money, tending, if possible, towards a taxless city. My interests are for a Greater Glendale—improvements with economy.

Being on the retired list, I can give my whole and undivided time to the city's needs. As I travel around I notice the requirements, and if elected I shall serve the people honestly and faithfully, without fear or favor, and any questions coming forward entailing a large expenditure, shall be brought before the taxpayers to decide upon. Our trustees are elected by the people who put their trust in them and must not be influenced by any small body or so-called clique or organized faction, to consider suggestions or recommendations and administer the same in a fair and impartial manner.

I am a Master Mason of the Glendale lodge; also a member of the St. Mark's Episcopal church. If the electorate consider my qualifications satisfactory as being a fit and proper person to represent them in the city council of the finest little and cleanest city in this great American country, I promise to do all in my power to stand by my platform—a clean city kept clean.

Yours very truly,
FRANK BOOTH.

Editor Glendale Press:

I want to express to you my thanks for throwing your columns open to the candidates for city councilman, that they may tell of their own qualifications for that office. I find it hard to "blow my own horn" to do this, for all through my life I have tried to do my work so well that others would be able to speak for me.

Having started out in the business world when I was only fourteen years of age, working my way through the schools, and being very active, I feel that I have "bumped" up against some of the keenest problems found in the business world. You may say—what has this to do with being councilman?

Well, I have always felt that the business of a city or municipality, should be carried on in just as careful and economical way as any private business would be. The most modern methods should be used with Siki next September.

WHAT GEO. KARR THINKS OF THE AIRPORT

"If Glendale doesn't watch out she is liable to lose the distinction of being the first city in America to establish a municipal airport," declared George B. Karr, chairman of the civic committee of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, this morning. "Papers that I receive from my former home in Cherryvale, Kansas, tell me that the city authorities back there are dickering for a quarter section of land on which to establish a municipal landing field as a sort of a half-way stop on the flight between Kansas City and Tulsa, Okla., and the project has met with the strongest kind of support from the Cherryvale folks."

"Cherryvale lies about half way between Kansas City and Tulsa, where the oil fields lie, and lots of the Kansas City oil operators make regular flights to and from the oil fields in their own or in public airplanes, and they want to have a place where they can break their journey whenever it may be necessary and where they know they can find every facility for caring for their machines and where they can light without any danger of breaking up their planes. Cherryvale is trying to place itself in a position to meet this demand, and it is probable that the people there will decide on the purchase of the 160 acres very shortly. Glendale can beat them to it if the people here will just hurry, and it would please me greatly to see my home town of Glendale take the lead over that other old home town where I used to live."

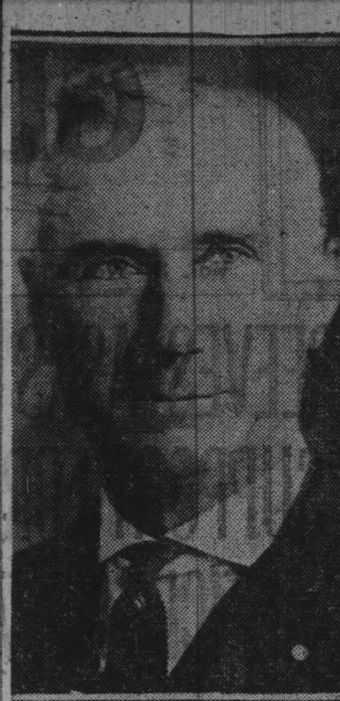

Mr. Karr objects strenuously to having any city in Kansas or any other state take the lead over Glendale especially when the matter is one that is so important to the needs of the city as the purchase of a water-bearing tract of land that is an absolute necessity to the future welfare of Glendale, as well as the acquisition of an industrial center that will place Glendale in the front rank of commercial cities in the United States.

MILLION DOLLAR MAIL ROBBER ESCAPES JAIL

[By Associated Press]
ATHEMS, Ga., April 5.—Following his sensational escape from the hospital where he was recuperating from bullet wounds under guard of a deputy sheriff, Gerald Chapman, gang leader in the million dollar mail robbery in New York in 1921 early today had not been apprehended. Chapman escaped from the hospital by means of sheets knotted together last night when the guard momentarily left his room. The escape is the second staged by Chapman within little more than a week.

Chapman, with three bullet wounds, was brought back for treatment after his first escape.

Dear Mr. Kinlin:

As soon as the petitions are ready for signature will you kindly forward them to my Los Angeles office.

I appreciate your interest greatly because the extension of Jackson as a through street from Belvedere to Broadway will materially benefit the corner of Jackson and Broadway which I purchased through Mr. Rush, and aside from the convenience to Belvedere residents I believe it will enhance the value of the lots the Sanitarium is selling on Jackson just north of Broadway.

It seems to me that your prices here are very low, and may be able to interest some of our prospects who are seeking property in the center of Glendale.

Permit me to thank you and Mr. Rush for the interest you have taken in this matter.

Yours very truly,
W. H. Leimert

CHRIST MOURNING OVER JERUSALEM

Remarkable Painting on Exhibition at Pendroy's
Store

By Hannah Luella Heikil, M. D.
Whether your tastes do homage to the artistic, whether you are a colorist or not, it behooves you as a loyal Glendelian to show appreciation of the famous picture of the Christ by Paul Jerserum, now on exhibition in the Pendroy department store.

This $30.00 canvas is called "If Thou Hast Known, Oh Jerusalem." It is a magnificent picture and well portrays our Lord in deep thought, mourning silently, as He overlooks the ancient city.

The artist has infused into his picture powerful emotion, passionate movement, but at the same time he has kept his work within the bounds of nature, and thus brings it into close contrast with the nearest reality. The purple hills of Judea suggest the foothills of our own loved California. The aura about the head of the Divine One is remarkably well executed. He has caught wonderful coloring effects in the setting sun, showing the clouds on the horizon as they journey on to where the dusk is waiting for the night. As I gazed at his glorious green tints above the rays hue of the sunset, I wondered if artists are not blessed with an unusually developed sense for seeing color pigment, similar to the delicate ear given a musician, with its sensitive fibres of Corti and its accurate adjustment of the semicircular canals, which enables him to sense the high tonal vibrations incident to his calling. Many of us have been keyed to the more theric vibrations, faintly to hear the high notes familiar to musicians like a Wagner, a Beethoven, or a Gounod, and in like manner, because of our lack of culture, may fail to read the message from an old soul as he depicts the sorrow of the Christ over His lost city, Jerusalem.

This silent messenger speaks a sermon in all tongues, and will do much to help build the thought-form, which will call again the Christ to His second coming.

Once again you are invited to feast yourself upon this beautiful picture. It will give you something real and lasting if you will open your soul to its message.

FLAG DAY MEETING JERRY JETER TURNS
IS HELD AT MRS. GALE'S HOME
LOOSE MACHINE GUN
OF THE GOSPEL

The postponed flag day meeting of General Richard Gridley chapter, D. A. R., was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Margaret M. Gale on Cedar street, the program being in charge of Mrs. S. C. Lepelman. Mrs. C. W. Houston, vice regent, presided in the absence of the regent, Mrs. J. H. Braly, who is still too ill to attend the meetings.

Mrs. Butterfield gave a history of the chapter. Mrs. R. D. Goss gave an excellent talk on the constitution of the United States, Miss Ida Myers read the report which she had prepared to send to national headquarters of the work of the D. A. R. in California. She is state chairman of conservation and many interesting things were brought out in her account, for instance, in response to the request for tree planting that one Los Angeles chapter has been responsible for the planting of 563 trees, another has planted more than 200 and the Hollywood B. O. W.

Mrs. W. Weston read extracts from Washington's first address, and following these papers there was general discussion on the use of the flag.

The organization voted to support the Glendale chapter of the American Legion by voting for the bill proposition for the city to take the post-war abandoned reservation site at the head of Louise street, and the secretary was instructed to send a copy of the resolution to the post.

Between 25 and 30 were present and at the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Gale.

MUSIC SECTION HAS
DELICIOUS PARTY

Seven members of the music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club were hostesses at a bridge luncheon given Wednesday afternoon at the clubhouse at which about 60 ladies were entertained, as a benefit for the piano fund.

It proved a very delightful affair, the hostesses matrons being: Mrs. S. H. Moore, Mrs. Helen Campbell, Mrs. Charles Meadows, Mrs. C. A. Parker, Mrs. Frank Arnold, Mrs. A. M. Draper, and Mrs. John Cole. Luncheon was served in the banquet hall, the card tables being placed in the lounge and reception hall, all the rooms being bright with flowers, chiefly roses and lilies.

Three prizes were provided for bridge which were won by Mesdames C. B. Guthrie, A. W. Beach, and M. Baxter, the trophy for bar going to Mrs. D. W. Brant.

MRS. HEARNshaw HOSTESS
TO THE WEDNESDAY CLUB

Mrs. J. P. Hearnshaw was hostess of the Wednesday Afternoon club this week, the usual cafeteria luncheon being followed by an afternoon of needlework and visiting. The house was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and the special guests of the day were Mrs. S. E. Allen and her sister-in-law and house guest, Mrs. McMahon from the middle west. Members present were Mrs. Lee Clotworthy, Miss Clara Ringert, Mrs. William Gibson, Mrs. Julia Perkins, Mrs. Stephen Packer, Mrs. Herbert Reed of Long Beach, Mrs. Freshman of Los Angeles, Mrs. Frank Hester, Mrs. G. D. Roach and the hostess.

WOMEN'S BIBLE CLASS TO HOLD MEETING FRIDAY

The women's bible class of the Tropico Presbyterian church will hold its regular monthly business and social meeting Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Frank Ashton, 423 West Myrtle street. Mrs. H. A. Goldsborough and Mrs. D. E. Covington will be the assisting hostesses.

WOMEN'S UNION LABEL LEAGUE MEETING HELD

The meeting of the Women's Union Label League, which was held last night at the Odd Fellows' hall with Mrs. J. D. Hall presiding, was attended by fifty members of the organization. The principal feature of the business session was the initiation of two new members. After the meeting the women of the league were served a supper by the men.

NON-ALCOHOLIC COOKING TO DEMONSTRATE

The Glendale chapter of the W. C. T. U. will meet at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sarah Thomas, 333 West California avenue. There will be a demonstration of non-alcoholic extracts for cooking. Everyone is asked to bring an item of current events.

PURELY PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hall of 134 North Belmont street, will have as their house guest over the weekend Mrs. Hall's nephew, James R. Sullivan, of Fresno.

Mrs. Fred Staples and little daughter, from Milwaukee, Wis., who have been guests of Mrs. T. W. Freemon at 208 North Jackson street, are now visiting relatives in San Diego and Bakersfield, before leaving for their home.

Mrs. Pearl Keller Brattain, director of the Pearl Keller School of dancing and dramatic art, was a guest Sunday night at the home of Mrs. Ella Buchanan, noted sculptress, of 1529 North Edgemont avenue, Hollywood, where she had the pleasure of meeting Paul Swan, noted dancer and artist of New York and Paris. The reception was given in honor of Mr. Swan.

Mrs. George W. Pierce of 207 E. Maple street will have as her house guests over the weekend Mrs. J. H. Duffy and daughter of Anaconda, Montana.

SALE OF LOTS TO LEGION ENDORSED

Realtors Approve Proposition
No. 1, Selling Land to Local Post

The Glendale Realty Board at its meeting Wednesday endorsed Proposition No. 7 on the ballot to be voted on by the citizens of Glendale April 10. This has to do with the selling of a piece of land owned by the city in the northern section of the city to the American Legion for $100. The matter was presented to the board by E. P. Hayward, secretary of the organization.

The board decided to levy an assessment on its members of $5 each to pay the cost of taking the proposition to the voters. The $250 toward the cost of taking the proposition of the Arrowhead magazine, it being understood that the city would pay $250, the chamber of commerce $250 and the railway company $250, providing it was permitted to solicit the banking institutions of the city for advertising. The Glendale issue of this magazine will come out in June.

C. B. Guthrie, who is a director of the state association, reported concerning the meeting of that board at San Jose about two weeks ago. He told many interesting facts concerning that meeting.

The board went on record as urging the representatives in the state assembly and senate to support any and all measures that are favored by the California State Real estate association.

On motion of Mr. Guthrie it was decided to appoint a joint committee which will have charge of the arranging of a joint day for the board members.

It was announced that Mr. Keogh and Mr. Kilduff of the 71st the Guarantee and Trust company of Los Angeles would address the next meeting of the organization.

HARBOR ENGINEER
TO SPEAK FRIDAY
IN TROPICO

Chairman H. E. Fry of the Tropico Presbyterian Church Men's Club has arranged a decided interesting program for the April meeting, to be held at 7:30 o'clock Friday, April 6. Harbor Engineer Ludlow of San Pedro will be present and give his illustrated lecture on Los Angeles Harbor, past, present and future. Mr. Ludlow's intimate touch with harbor affairs for many years puts him in a position to speak with authority on this vital subject, and much of real information and inspiration is expected from this presentation.

Of local interest and value will be the attendance upon this club meeting of the councilman candidates whose election or rejection will be voted about at the Glendale polls next Tuesday. Six out of the seven of these men have signified their intention of being present and taking advantage of the opportunity of presenting their claims to the voters present. It is expected that all seven candidates will be present and give short talks.

Because of the character of this meeting it has been decided to admit ladies, as they will enjoy the opportunity of a close-up study of Los Angeles Harbor, as well as getting acquainted face to face with the men, some of whom will soon be the fun of representing officially the harbor district of the country. Everybody is invited.

PEOPLE'S FINANCE AND THRIFT CO.
OPENS DOORS

Glendale's newest financial institution, The People's Finance and Thrift company, established under the "Wimsett System" of People's banks, opened yesterday on schedule time. The company is well established in commodious and well-located quarters at 233 South Brand boulevard. This institution, while organized under the auspices of Albert B. Wimsett and his able corps of assistants who have for some time past been organizing similar companies in cities of California and other Pacific coast states, is in every respect a local institution. Its stockholders are local business men and residents.

The directors and officers are well-known business men of Glendale. The officers of the company state that the Glendale institution is in no way to be considered as a branch of the organized company; that direction of the company's affairs is entirely in the hands of the local stockholders and that the organization's company has no claim whatsoever on or strings attached to, any portion of the company's future earnings.

In speaking of the company's opening, and in commenting upon its first day's operation, W. E. Lusby, secretary-treasurer and manager, states: "Our first day's business was a distinct success, and was the best possible evidence we could have to support the conviction which many of us have had for some time that Glendale should have a People's Finance company. The stockholders, directors and officers of the company are most appreciative of the interest shown by the citizens of Glendale in this new venture.

We thank our many friends most kindly for their congratulations and floral gifts. To the public generally we wish to extend a hearty invitation to come in and see us. The management is never too busy to give every applicant for accommodation courteous and careful attention. Within the next few days we shall mail to practically every home in Glendale a folder on how to loan money. In it will be found some very interesting reading. For those who are unable to come in and see us during the daytime, we are keeping our office open on Monday and Thursday evenings from 4:30 to 9 o'clock, beginning Thursday, April 5."

A couple of high school principals were discussing various manifestations bordering on the occult. "Is thought transference possible?" asked one. "I fear not," answered the other. "You seem to think there is no chance."

"No, if there were, my students would hire a college professor to sit in class."

Credit is to a man what virtue is to a woman.

3000 DELEGATES TO ATTEND C. E. CONVENTION

To Be Held at Pomona,
April 20-22, by County
Organizations

About 3000 delegates will meet in Pomona, April 20, 21, 22, for the 31st annual convention of the Los Angeles County Christian Endeavor Union. This union is comprised of 400 societies and has a membership of 10,000, being represented in all evangelical Protestant denominations.

The speaker for the opening session will be "Fighting Bob" Shuler, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, Los Angeles, a man of rare ability and known throughout the country for his powerful preaching.

Saturday morning and afternoon will be devoted to classes and conferences on all phases of Christian Endeavor activity and the work the young people of the various societies can do for their community. One of the interesting features will be a great Christian Endeavor Symposium or "Open Forum" conducted by Paul C. Brown, Pacific Coast secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, where problems and questions relating to young people's affairs will be discussed. At the opening of the symposium will be an address by George Ellingwood Joy, director of religious education of Temple Baptist Church, on "Leadership—How to Acquire It."

Saturday afternoon the convention will be addressed by Rev. W. S. Buchanan, popular pastor of the Broadway Christian Church, Los Angeles. Following this address will be three big banquets, called "Rainbow Banquets," having for speakers Rev. Bruce V. Black, pastor of Wilshire Baptist Church; Paul C. Brown and Dr. W. P. White, formerly pastor of the United Presbyterian Church, Los Angeles. The music for the banquet will be furnished by the Pomona College Glee Club and the Hawaiian Trio, also of Pomona College. The Glee Club will also sing at the evening session, which will be addressed by Dr. John Marvin Dean, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Pasadena. At the Saturday night session the prizes for the county union's great four square campaign will be awarded.

One of the most interesting meetings will be the great quiet hour, or sunrise service, held in the Greek Theatre in Ganesha Park, Sunday morning, in charge of Roy E. Creighton.

On Sunday afternoon two great mass meetings will be held. Dr. R. A. Hadden speaking at one and Rev. L. S. Bauman of Long Beach, speaking at the other.

It is the purpose to make this "The Bible Convention," dealing with the inspiration of the scripture, its power in the life and its relation to every day affairs. Therefore two popular bible classes have been arranged for to be taught by Dr. W. P. White and Dr. O. P. Gifford, two of the best bible expositors in the country. Both will be held on Saturday and Sunday morning.

The music in connection with the convention will be exceptionally good, for in addition to the Pomona College Glee Club and the Hawaiian Trio will be the Harmony Quartet of Los Angeles, one of the finest in the United States, and the congregational singing will be led by Byron L. Burditt, director of religious education of the First Christian Church, Pomona, one of the best known leaders of music in the country. Presiding at the pianos will be those three master artists, Grace Creighton, Leslie Harlan and James Garth.

Delegates will come from all parts of the county for this is the great annual event of the Christian Endeavor in this section of the state.

"When there's anything edible to be had you can count Newerich in," remarked Binks. "Soup will suit him, he is especially fond of it."

"Yes," returned Jinks. "I know, but as far as he is concerned soup isn't edible, it's audible."

"DRIVEN" IS TO BE SHOWN AT THE T. D. & L.

If you enjoy real dramatic ability and a virtue plot in your screen entertainments, the type production where pretty clothes and pretty faces are conspicuous by their absence, and the artists win success by sheer technique, you will want to see "Driven," the Charles Brabin-Universal Jewel production which comes to the T. D. & L. theater on Friday, with a stellar cast which includes Elinor Fair, Charles Mack of "Dream Street," fame; Emily Fitzroy and Burr McIntosh.

Maids and Matrons to Have Food Sale

The members of the Maids and Matrons section of the Tuesday Afternoon club will hold a food sale Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at Gregg's hardware store, 107 North Brand boulevard. This will be for the purpose of completing the raising of funds to pay for the flat silver which was purchased for the club house.

BELEHURST PARK

IN THE HEART OF GLENDALE

Now selling like wild-fire!

This magnificent old estate—an enchanted garden in the midst of the fastest forward marching city in America.

Come today—at once—and see with your own eyes these wonderful homesites covered with fine old palms, magnolias, oaks, and hundreds of bearing orange, lemon and olive trees.

We are creating here in Glendale a unique residence park for Southern California—one that will rival and excel in beauty the thousand acres of distinctive home communities we have developed in Piedmont and Oakland in the San Francisco Bay region.

Belhurst Park is dedicated to fine homes. Restrictions are carefully worked out to insure steadily increasing values. All city improvements of the highest type are now being installed at our expense. Pacific Electric trains only 2 blocks away. Four schools, within 5 blocks. Very easy terms to first buyers.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF EAGLE ROCK CITY

CHILD ESCAPES DEATH UNDER AUTO

Daughter of Theodore Fisher Is Struck by Passing Machine

The little daughter of Theodore Fisher, proprietor of the Motor Inn, 328 West Colorado boulevard, was favored by the Goddess of Luck yesterday, when she was hurled to the pavement by an automobile, but escaped with only minor injuries. The motorist had slowed down for the crossing of Colorado and Central or the child might have been more seriously hurt. She was on her way to Central school and did not notice the approaching machine as she ran across Colorado boulevard. The driver of the car, seeing the little girl turn suddenly in the path of his machine, put on the brakes so suddenly that the car skidded half the width of Central avenue before coming to a stop near the east curb. Struck a glancing blow, the child was not severely injured, although she suffered a painful bruise on one knee.

She was greatly frightened and cried loudly for several minutes, so that spectators feared that she had been badly hurt. But upon recovering from her shock, Mr. Fisher's daughter calmly continued on her way to school.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO MEET THIS EVENING
The chamber of commerce will meet tonight in the city hall at 8 o'clock, for a meeting of importance to all citizens of Eagle Rock, who took an active interest in the recent consolidation election. Mr. Smith, secretary of the Sawtelle chamber of commerce will be the main speaker of the evening. Godfrey Edwards will also speak on problems concerning the recent election.

"Suffered Rheumatic Torture For Years,"
Now Restored to Perfect Health

Read What J. C. Jones, of Winchester, Ky., Has to Say About ALLENRUH, the Sure Conqueror of Rheumatism.

"For years I was a sufferer from the torture of rheumatism. My limbs (feet and hands) would swell to almost double their normal size. I suffered intense pain day and night so that I could hardly eat or sleep. I had very little hope of ever recovering from this most dreadful and painful disease. A friend of mine seeing how despondent I was over my hopeless condition advised me to try ALLENRUH. I went immediately to the George Drug Company in Winchester and got a bottle of the internal treatment and a bottle of the Liniment to use externally. For the sake of other sufferers I wish to say that the results were simply marvelous. After beginning the combined treatment the swelling began to reduce and the pain left me entirely. I continued the treatment until I had taken only two bottles which effected a complete cure. Today I positively feel better than ever before in my life. I feel that I am very fortunate in finding a remedy that has relieved me of the distress and the almost unbearable pains from which I suffered. For the past five weeks I have been working 12 hours a day and I haven't even a symptom of rheumatism or ache or pain."—Signed, James C. Jones.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of ALLENRUH, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

ALLENRUH has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished even in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitious and where the patient was helpless. You are sure to get it at Roberts & Echols, 102 East Broadway, Glendale—Adv.

METHODISTS TO HAVE CARNIVAL

A carnival of entertainment in charge of twenty-five young ladies of the Methodist church, will take place in the annex tonight, April 5. The purpose of this entertainment is to raise money for their church bond of $50. The carnival will be full of fun and frolic. There will be instrumental music, minstrel quartets, short plays and readings. Refreshments will be served after the program. There will be no admission charged, but a silver offering will be taken.

REV. C. S. PROUT USES VIEWS TO ILLUSTRATE

Stereopticon Shows Impressive Pictures of the Tragedy at Calvary

Using stereopticon views to illustrate the points of his discourse, Rev. C. S. Prout addressed an audience at the Seventh Day Adventist Tabernacle on Myrtle avenue, Eagle Rock, on the theme of "The Tragedy of Calvary." The death of the Son of God on the cross of Calvary was the greatest tragedy of all time. Weighty indeed must have been the reason for such a sacrifice on the part of Christ and of God.

Adam at his creation was lord of the world. Satan overcame Adam by leading him into sin, and thus brought the world under his dominion. Satan set up his kingdom on the earth and strove to bring all mankind into allegiance to himself. But always there were a faithful few who would not bow to him, like Job, Noah, Abraham, Joseph, Moses and others. A great controversy for the mastery of the world began in Eden, between the kingdom of Christ and the kingdom of Satan; and this controversy has continued to the present time and grows more intense as we near the end of the age.

At the darkest hour of this world's career, when mankind was sunk in the abyssal depths of heathen degradation and sin, under the sway of Rome, the world's mightiest despotism, and God's chosen people, the Jews, had buried the light of divine truth under the rubbish of tradition, God sent His son into the world as a helpless babe, to grow up amidst the most unfavorable surroundings and demonstrate that against all possible opposition men could live on the earth in perfect harmony with the law of God. It was prophesied of Him that He should "magnify the law and make it honorable." Isa. 42:1. The life of Christ was a living expression of the divine law, and the death of Christ for man's transgression of that law was the highest, possible testimonial to its holy and immutable character. If the law of God could have been abolished or changed to meet man's condition as a sinner, Christ need not have died.

The greatest battle of all time was not fought by contending millions of men amidst the roar of cannon and the clash of swords, but in the silent garden of Gethsemane, curtained by the shadows of night, where Christ, in the weakness of human flesh, met Satan, who baffled at his first attack in the wilderness of temptation, had returned for the last desperate conflict, in which all his power and cunning were to be employed to induce Christ to shrink from the final supreme sacrifice and go back to heaven as He had come, leaving man to his fate. But Christ, though sweating drops of blood, did not refuse to endure the veiling of His Father's face and he made sin for us, and hang upon the cross as a malefactor, that He might bring back the world to God. He paid the awful price of man's redemption and thus became the second Adam, the Head of the new human family whose lives are in harmony with the will of God.

On Sunday evening next Rev. Prout will speak on the theme, "God's Remedy for a Sick World." He will tell what God's purpose is in view of present world conditions.

The following were elected trustees: W. L. Miller, W. R. Johnson, J. Hartley Taylor, E. R. Snow and E. D. Platt.

Professor Morris and P. W. Beers were elected deacons.

Reports were given on the work being carried on in each department.

THE MARKETS

[By Associated Press]
NEW YORK, April 5.—The daily average of gross oil production of the United States increased 61,850 barrels for the week ended March 31, totaling 1,908,450, according to the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute. The daily average production east of the Rocky mountains was 1,203,450 barrels, an increase of 21,850. California production was 705,000 barrels.

There were no changes reported in crude oil prices for the major districts—Mid-Continent being quoted at $1.50 to $2.60 a barrel according to the gravity of the oil. Bradford district, Pennsylvania, being quoted at $4.25 a barrel and Gulf Coast at $2.75 a barrel.

The imports of petroleum (crude and refined oils) for the week ended March 31, totaled 1,875,000 barrels, compared with 1,450,000 for the week ended March 24. Receipts of California oil at Atlantic coast ports for the week ended March 31 totaled 305,000 barrels compared with 1,010,000 for the week ended March 24.

Mixed prices changed took place at the opening of today's stock market but the main tendency appeared to be upwards. The cans, equipments and a number of oils and rails, notably Royal Dutch, Pacific Oil, California Petroleum, Shell Union, Baltimore & Ohio and Great Northern preferred, moved up to higher ground. Willys Overland preferred, International Agricultural Corporation preferred and Cerro de Pasco each dropped a point and Westinghouse Electric yielded fractionally. Dupont sold a point higher.

Dupont extended its gains to two points. Gulf states Steel rose 1 1/2 points, but most of the other gains in the industrial group were of a fractional character. Market Street Railway preferred advanced 1/2 point on reports that progress was being made in the negotiations for the sale of its properties to the city of San Francisco. International Harvester, Tobacco Products "A" and American Agricultural Chemical preferred each fell back a point. Foreign exchanges open firm. Demand sterling advanced 1/4 cent to $4.66 15-16 and French francs advanced 6 points to 6.56.

Sustained pressure against investment railroad shares, many of which sagged 1 to 2 points, caused a highly irregular movement during the morning session. Accumulations of other shares was temporarily suspended while the market was digesting the offerings of railroad stocks. Before midday the general trend became definitely upward again under the stimulus of active bidding for equipments and other industrial favorites. Market Street Railway shares were buoyant, the common rising 2 1/2 points, second preferred 6 and prior preferred 4 1/2. Other share gains included United Railways Investment preferred 3; American Can, American Loco, Famous Players, Auto Knitter, American Waterworks and Electric 4 per cent preferred and General Tank 2 each. Call money opened at 4 1/2.

CAR SUFFERS FROM FLIRTATION WITH BRICK WALL

Thomas I. Wood Thought That Gears Were Set in Reverse

So many things have been blamed on the cat this season! Most any old thing has been "the cat's whiskers," or "the cat's meow," but it seems a real shame to hold poor tabby, the family pet, responsible for the accident which befell Mr. Thomas I. Wood, of 208 North Kenilworth avenue, yesterday morning. However, Mr. Wood had just made a special trip to town for the purchase of the cat's meat which he forgot to buy on Saturday, so evidence makes it appear that pussy was, after all, indirectly responsible.

Mr. Wood parked his car on Colorado boulevard, just east of the Occidental Realty company, about 10:30, and went into the Seelig market to purchase the meat. Returning to his car, a Jewett, Mr. Wood, thinking that he had it all set in reverse, let in the clutch, and turned around to see what machines were coming behind him on the boulevard. Nothing was in his way there, but before Mr. Wood could control his machine, it had taken him by surprise, bounded over the sidewalk, and was on intimate terms with the brick wall of the market building. Mr. Wood discovered, when he found his progress so violently impeded, that the gears had not been in reverse.

It is difficult to make an impression on a brick wall, so the Jewett suffered the most from the little flirtation, sustaining a wrecked fender and springs. Mr. Wood was not injured.

SCHOOL BONDS TO BE SOLD APRIL 7

Plans for New Units Are Approved at School Board Meeting

The school bonds will be sold about April 7, it was decided at the school board meeting Monday night. Building on the new units will commence before the close of the present school term. The plans for the additional buildings were studied and approved by the board members present.

Mrs. Squire, who was elected last week to take the place of Miss Dirkes, sat in Monday night's meeting. P. H. Ducker was called away on business and could not attend.

Had Bad Case of Eczema Between Toes

Hokara Completely Heals
"I must write and tell you what Hokara did for my husband. He suffered for over three years with Eczema between the toes on both feet. It itched so that he couldn't sleep nights and his toes were raw and had an offensive odor. I persuaded him to try Hokara because it had cured my hands of Eczema. The first night he used it he slept soundly and a few more applications entirely cured him."—Signed, Mrs. K. Kestel, Erie, Pa.

the BEST OIL made is refined from WESTERN CRUDE

The motorist who pays fancy prices for oil, often pays for something he does not get.

Zerolene costs less because it is produced in California from selected California naphthenic crude, which, of all the crudes so far discovered, yields the most efficient lubricating oils.

Zerolene lubricates better. It forms from 25% to 50% less carbon. It has greater adhesiveness and penetration than oils made from any other crude.

Glendale Has Another Million Dollar Building Month

The taking out of the building permit for our proposed new six-story banking building at the northeast corner of Brand Boulevard and Broadway brought Glendale's monthly building figures to over the million dollar mark again.

March, as well as January and February, has gone down in local building history as a million dollar month. Already the grand total of six million dollars for the year 1922 has been half equalled, with nine months remaining in which to break that record.

It is a source of satisfaction to this bank that in addition to bringing to Glendale a business structure of the size and beauty of our proposed new banking "home," it brings, daily, banking resources and facilities fully commensurate with the demands which a growing community such as Glendale makes upon a bank. What is more, the Glendale Branch of the Security has an abundance of additional money available for loans on legitimate business and building enterprises.

IN DARKEST RUSSIA

By the condemnation of certain priests, Russia has shown, perhaps more than in any other single act, the level of depraved brutality at which the soviet regime functions. It would not be strange if by this act it would be found to have shown itself of influence and power. The poison of bolshevism, seeping out of Russia as mist from a morass, had seemed to be spreading. But when Russia appears like the foe of God and man, it cannot deceive people who have been nurtured on the precepts of religion. The soviets, with apparent pride, proclaim not alone their atheism, but their hatred of the idea that God reigns; that there is a God. They have made a mock of every religious form; they have wantonly defiled the temple. Now they send to death or prison, men who have dared to cling to a faith that is instinctive, a part of the very process of life to uncounted millions.

Reaction disastrous to the schemes of bolshevism is assured. There could be no error in this prediction. An appeal to men who conceive themselves to be victims of oppression; large talk of freedom, the opportunity to prey on the prosperous, and trample on the mighty, might stir latent inclinations to acute savagery. Men might mistakenly fight for an ideal, convinced that in so doing they were not wrong. They will not align themselves with forces unmistakably committed to evil, inimical to the legends and beliefs of generations.

The exhibition of the murderous temper of the soviets is as the stripping away of the veil. They are left exposed in all their repellent, illogical and indecent cruelty. In the end the flimsy structure they have erected must have collapsed in any case. This latest outrage but hastens the coming of that day.

CLIMATIC CONTRASTS

March 30 was marked by the coldest weather in New York state ever experienced there at that date. The mercury sank to 30 below zero at some points. Nowhere was a sign of spring. On the contrary bitter winter held full sway.

The same day in southern California conditions suggested a perfect June. The sun was bright and the air congenial. The skies were being scanned in the hope of rain. California can make but a single complaint of weather this season; there has not been a normal precipitation. No great harm has been accomplished by this, yet the value of moisture is appreciated.

Flowers out this way are blooming in wanton profusion. Gardens are looking their best. The air of all this region is redolent of bloom, the scent of the orange predominating. The contrast between New York and California in these respects is not a mere matter of human convenience. It has industrial and sociological significance. A climate such as makes California a delightful place throughout the year is an asset as truly as the oil in the ground, or the fruits in the orchard. It must be in large measure responsible for the flow of travel from east to west. It goes far towards explaining gains in population and industrial activity.

Californians do not boast about their superior attractions of their environment. With due modesty they call attention to them. They are glad to see that others are beginning to realize them, and show a desire to seek out a land where the March mercury is not thirty below.

STRICTER MARRIAGE LAWS

One of the great evils that threatens society is the ease with which the totally unfit may be married. For a mentally incompetent person to marry is illegal, and probably the drooling idiot applying for a license, would be refused. Or if he got by the license clerk, there would be difficulty in finding minister or magistrate to perform the ceremony. Short of actual idiocy, however, there seems to be no bar. The immature in years, or the undeveloped in mind, reach the altar without contact with obstacles. The public pays the penalty. It must care for the progeny of these unfit, and often the principals themselves become charges, either as paupers or criminals.

A phase of the evil is that children are permitted to perjure themselves in the matter of age. If they cannot impress the officials, parents, or persons posing as parents, may be found to give the necessary consent. By this method two children are married, or a girl become the wife of a man so much older than herself as to make the alliance revolting. On occasion it is the seasoned female, who picks out a youth to be her mate. Results invariably are deplorable. The marriages do not last, but they mean ruin to the boys and girls implicated.

The law touching these matters seems clear enough. All that has to be done to make it effective, is to enforce it. The trouble lies in the fact that it is not enforced. Surely a remedy for such laxness is not beyond reach.

From the first of January to the end of March thirty-five murders had been committed in Los Angeles. The figures are startling, but they are official. Perhaps the ambition to lead in everything sometimes results in too great a zeal on the part of specialists.

As eastern Easter parades had to go so muffled in wraps as to conceal their new clothes, it would have been kind of them had they worn exposed to view, a list of the duds, together with the prices.

A telephone in your house is a great convenience for your neighbors.

AGAIN THE LAW'S DELAYS

Herbert Wilson, a notorious criminal now in the county jail, has been detected in a plot to escape. Once he did get away for a brief season. At that time he found shelter in the home of one Garwood, since slain when caught in the act of robbery. Wilson's first dash for liberty was abortive, but it involved the murder of a pal whom he held suspected of betraying him. Apprehended primarily as a bandit and thief, it was of this murder he was found guilty.

The particular point to be considered is that being under sentence to the penitentiary for life Wilson ought to be in that institution now. The law has been appealed to keep him out. Meanwhile he is held precariously in a faulty jail from which escapes are common. Until in the penitentiary, there is no certainty that he may not soon be free, once more to prey on the public. The fact that appeals are made on frivolous pretexts keeps the calendar of the higher tribunals constantly crowded. Many months must elapse before detection of the fact that an appeal has no merit. Meanwhile the prisoner, in Los Angeles county at least, has the reasonable hope of getting through the walls. If he has money, as this one has, to hire all the help he needs appears to be an easy task.

There seems to be no doubt that Wilson is one of the most desperate criminals ever captured in this country. Really, the law was devised to check individuals of his type, rather than to give them aid and comfort.

Some men are self-made and some others are wife-made.

PROGRESS AND NERVES

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

Where did we Americans get the pleasing delusion that the west is more given to silence than the east? Keep in my memory at this moment is a lecture given in my girlhood by a man who had just returned from the Holy Land. The picture he painted for us of the din that salutes the ears of a traveler in the far east remains vivid to this day. I thought of it just now because I am tired of noise. I am not only tired of noise; I am tired of the unending assault on my attention from all quarters of the compass and through all of my senses.

It is true that in the east the coolies, camel and donkey drivers, peddlers and beggars shout. But does nobody shout in America? Walk down the street and then, in case you fear to speak aloud on this subject, go into your office and make a note of the noises you have heard.

While you are making it you will have to stop and answer the telephone or listen to it ring for fifteen minutes.

Outside and in the street you will hear the roar of traffic, the shouts of newsboys, the clang of gongs, automobile horns will honk and street agents will stick tickets in your face and implore you to take a free ride with this, that or another oil company, real estate firm or agent of some kind—and no obligations absolutely.

Pass along. You will meet solicitors begging for various charities, hands accompanying floats that call to the world to come to some moving picture palace and witness "the greatest" and so on.

Go home. Your mail will be filled to overflowing with literature advertising everything under the shining canopy of heaven from an automobile tire to an I. W. W. campaign to repeal the criminal syndicalism law. While you are disposing of the pamphlets the door bell will ring and a professional grinder will stand there and ask you what church you attend and why, what political ticket you vote and whether you can be persuaded to vote another. The ice man will shout, the laundryman will call for the week's wash. The personal representative of the "greatest pure soap factory extant" will run in for a moment and force sample cakes on you.

And in all probability some representative of the city's organized charity will appear to solicit donations to stop the prodigious giving of donations.

You go in your room and lock the door. Immediately somebody calls on the phone to ask you to listen to the latest product of a favorite radio company and write an endorsement for the paper's next day.

And so it goes. No wonder we are a nation of neurotics.

Last year I was in China, Japan and the far east. I heard tumult and shouting a-plenty in the day, but the nights were still and serene. Even in Yokohama you could hear the crickets. And sleep? Well, you could sleep like Rip Van Winkle.

Does civilization bring quiet? Not so you could notice it. The only quiet spot in an American city is in the cemetery. And that's getting fuller every day.

If you are an employer, you have probably asked a somewhat similar question about each person working for you, i. e., "Why do I pay them wages?"

Right: Why do I pay him wages? (Him should agree with each person, which is singular.) Vocabulary.

Queries
"Kindly let me know the difference between the words talk and speak, when each is used, and why," writes Miss Ruby Silberfeld of New York. To speak means to use language orally; to talk; to talk. To talk means to convey in speech; to converse on. The two words are synonymous.

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

Hello!
Hello Jones!
Glad to hear from you.
What's that?

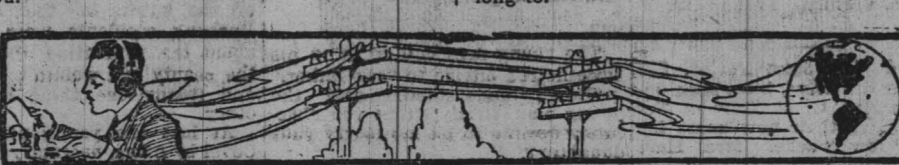

JAMES W. FOLEY says. It's a fine morning and a few hours away from the desk would be delightful. It isn't that I don't want to go. It's because I've got an obligation to discharge.

Important? Oh, not especially except to me. The world would probably continue to exist if the thing were not done. But I would not be happy to go away and leave it. I've promised myself to do it this morning. Yes, I could do it this afternoon, perhaps. But I might not be in the mood. Some other thing might come up.

No, I don't want to be churlish. Didn't you understand I had a job to do? Yes, I've already thanked you, haven't I? It isn't that I don't want to come. It is that I should not come. Because I've got a job to do.

You're mighty persistent, Jones. I appreciate your wanting me to go with you.

Songs of the Poets

Castles in the Air—By Thomas Lloyd Peacock

My thoughts by night are often filled
With visions false as fair:
For in the past alone I build
My castles in the air.

I dwell not now on what may be;
Night shadows o'er the scene;
But still my fancy wanders free
Through that which might have been.

ANKH—SYMBOL OF ENDURING LIFE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE syllable ankh in the title Tutankhamen, the name of the Egyptian king whose tomb has recently been opened, is said to be the symbol of enduring life.

The common form of this character is a circle surmounting a cross, which picture often occurs in the ancient records of Egypt.

This symbol we find used later denoting enduring life in the person of Goddess Venus (Aphrodite), as love signifies the life force.

According to mythology, Venus sprang from the foam of the sea, and was borne over the waves to the island of Cyprus.

From Cyprus we get the word "copper"; Latin, "cuprum."

Copper, or its kindred bronze, is the eternal metal. When the tomb of Tutankhamen was opened recently, the bronze hinges swinging true, although they had been in place some 3500 years. There was also a cross and circle, and copper is interesting.

Another connection is significant.

Centuries after the epoch of Venus, Goddess of the Island of Copper, the alchemists were pursuing their studies in medieval Europe. Alchemy was originally one of the early efforts of mankind to bring science to bear upon the problem of the soul and moral perfection.

For this reason it was frowned upon by the ecclesiastical authorities, and alchemists were driven into many forbidden arts, such as black magic and demonology. To prevent discovery they corresponded with each other in symbols.

And among these symbols we find our old friend ankh, which once symbolized enduring life to the Egyptians, later the Goddess Venus, and finally became the shorthand sign for the enduring metal—copper.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

LET'S ALL GO BACK

Evidently some people think it is time for modern life to reform itself and cease its dizzy pace. This business of riding to work in the morning by use of the motor or even the street car, must stop. Both the horse and the ox have been done a serious injustice by modern transportation methods. The candle and the oil lamp are good enough for the night; the folly and danger of electricity have been demonstrated. The telephone is an abomination; travel by air is a challenge to the laws of nature and of God, and the train and the telegraph were due to a defiance of divine order that should long ago have been punished with severity.

Yes, we should go back. A Kansas senator says so; groups at Washington, Jefferson City and other centers of light acclaim the sentiment. The Kansas legislator wants the government to call a halt on all this business of spending money to aid the states in roads, public health, farming, cattle raising and education. He wants the nuisance both abated and stopped abruptly. We don't need any roads, anyway; besides, they cost money. A people's health is something not to be tampered with by such faddish methods as sanitation, piddling around with insect and plant life, inoculation, vaccination and other outgrowths of wild theorists of today.

If we don't go back, which way are we going, we should like to know? Everything that's modern costs money. Conditions are getting dreadfully complicated. Of course it would cost something to turn back. If roads are discarded, our motor cars would have to be scrapped. That would be expensive; but something must be done. The education of the little red schoolhouse of blessed memory

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

By HENRY JAMES

In attempting to kill himself a Los Angeles man shot two innocent bystanders. Suicide is likely to be a selfish operation.

With inauguration of the system of voting by post there might arise a new excuse for tampering with the mails.

A bill has been introduced in parliament for abolition of private property. It has not been passed yet.

Bootleggers in writing threatening letters show one more good reason why they should be put out of business.

Unfortunately in building subways in Los Angeles, the preliminary hot air cannot be utilized to drive the bores.

Doubtless the legislators who protected against permitting Rear Admiral Sims to speak are ashamed of themselves if they have read the addresses.

today; yet if we are to turn back the clock on everything else, the training of earlier generations would fit into the regenerated scheme.

At any rate, or cost, let's have action. It will take a lot of talk to make the world over and put it back to the good old simple days. But let's get busy, anyway. And the more flourish we get into the talk the better. Nothing counts like impressive gestures and appeals to the people, already burdened and breaking under the load—everybody knows what the load is.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

Considerable agitation has been manifest over the character of histories as prepared for students of the public schools. There seems to be sound basis for the fuss.

The matter would have been taken up long ago doubtless, save that objectors who spoke first were known as professional haters of England, and any statement coming from them, necessarily without weight unless corroborated. Real American organizations began to search into the matter. These how come forward with corroboration in abundance.

England and the American colonies had an important fight, and the colonies won. Later there was armed conflict, and once more Americans prevailed. This does not constitute any reason why the people of the two countries should hate each other now. In fact, there could be nothing more silly than the nurturing of an old prejudice. England was wrong and was beaten, as the biggest and best English admit. And it was long ago anyhow.

The objectionable histories, however, take the view that the United States was wrong, in effect that the revolutionists, instead of being patriots, were a scurvy lot of knaves, who lost their one chance to win renown when they broke away from the British crown. For this error, the historians are not ready to forgive them.

These historians have made every effort to belittle America, and to bring it into contempt. In every instance they minimize American achievement, slander American devotion to principle, and praise the British.

This sort of stuff won't go down. It won't go down with the British any better than with the people it traduces and libels. The British take pride in their sense of fair play. They like a fighter. They have no particular use for the alien sycophant who thinks to please them by fawning his own nest.

History may in part be fiction, but when it is all fiction, why, it ceases to be history.

In an election hereabouts there was only one candidate until a second came forward at so late an hour that his name could not appear on the ballot. It had to be written in. The voters wanted to elect him, but some did not know his initials. They got them wrong, or they used the plain prefix "Mister."

The voter who got the smaller number of votes won out. Seems queer, kind'a.

The big league baseball player who has been arrested for deserting his wife and refusing to support her, seems to have learned at least one home run.

Down at Waco, Tex., they are trying a negro for murder, this being his fifth experience of the sort. Already he had been found guilty of the previous four, and he has the distinction of resting under four sentences of death.

The reason for seeking to fix a fifth sentence on him is not clear. Perhaps it is just a habit now.

A girl in New York won a title by dancing twenty-seven consecutive hours. She is now the champion long distance dancer. She won other titles than that, but it would not be seemly to mention them here.

With the close of Easter Sunday eighty-nine people had been killed this year by traffic accidents in Los Angeles county, most of them in the city of Los Angeles.

This is keeping pretty well up to the New York city record of one fatality daily, and there might be a spurt any time, leaving the metropolis in second place.

Four directors of the Krupp concern have been arrested by the French for inciting to riot. Probably the Germans will begin to understand pretty soon that the armed forces in the Ruhr did not arrive for the purpose of being made game of by the residents.

The killing of a man at Stockton by lightning was a most unusual occurrence. Such things happen in southern California so rarely as to be practically unknown. It is seldom that there is any display of lightning, and only at long intervals, possibly of years, is the distant rumble of thunder to be heard.

Barcelona is another city where the terrorists are trying to seize control. There is doubt that the authorities will treat them with gentleness. The same thing said of the American Indian once by a prejudiced authority, might be said of the terrorist, by authority quite unprejudiced. The only good one, etc.

Absolving a Philadelphia financier from any connection with the murder of his Broadway butterfly, was exactly the outcome that had been expected. That it indicates anything besides the influence of money is a theory that possibly will be accepted.

Herbert Wilson, notorious inmate of the county jail, but overdue at the penitentiary, is the latest to have taken to his heels. How Clara Phillips escaped. He might as well keep still about it. The public is convinced that she was led to the front door, and wished a pleasant journey; which, by the way, she seems to be having.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Did you ever notice how complicated some people make this business of living? It isn't, really. So far as I can see at this distance, even the business of dying is a rather simple one.

"My new wife," says Doc Hennesberry, "can certainly gum up what I used to think was the straightforward business of living. She makes it so darned hard for herself."

Mrs. Doc is one of those painfully tender-hearted and conscientious persons one meets now and then. She has been getting the morning paper two hours late because the old cuss who delivers it overslept. She does not want to change to the lively youngster who whistles past her gate about dawn, because the worthless old man's feelings would be hurt. When one of life's minor problems—of this insane degree of minority—begins to weigh heavily on Doc, he tosses it off. One of these days the old man will hear from him.

"Don't leave us the paper any more," Doc will say. "I've formed the habit of wanting my morning paper at breakfast. The kid will get it to me when I want it."

Mrs. Doc is the most adorable woman in the world in some ways, but she scrambles hopelessly in her social relations. She actually grieves and metaphorically scratches at Doc when he interferes.

"The Fishers, and the Wheelers don't mix," he says. "Don't try to fix 'em. We'll have one set one night and the other set the next night."

"Doc don't understand," wails Mrs. Doc. "Life seems so simple to him. But it isn't."

But it is. A little less worry and fret and a little more going straight to the desired end would simplify it even for poor, over-thoughtful Mrs. Doc.

DO YOU KNOW THAT—?

BE FRIENDLY

By H. ADDINGTON BRUCE

Author of "The Riddle of Personality," "Self-Development," Etc. (Copyright, 1923, by The Associated Newspapers)

There would be fewer lonely and friendless persons if only more people appreciated that to win and hold friends one must be friendly one's self.

And being friendly is something more than an attitude of urbanity and geniality. It is something more than an air of affability.

There are numerous urbane, genial and affable folk who are friendly to nobody but themselves. On the opposite there are not a few rough-and-ready, bluntly outspoken ones who are friendliness personified.

Their bluntness may jar one's sensibilities, their brusqueness may at times hurt. But their outstanding trait, evident to all, is a sympathetic human interest in those with whom they come into contact, even if the contact be only that of a brief acquaintanceship.

And sympathetic human interest is the essential thing in being friendly. It is that which makes the truly friendly draw to them a host of friends, so that, rich or poor, educated or uneducated, they never are oppressed with that most appalling of all sensations, the sensation of being quite alone in the world.

Naturally people warm to people who give them reason to feel that they are sincerely interested in them. Just as naturally they are repelled by, or at least are not attracted to, people whose interest in others is of the lip rather than the heart, and who are manifestly lacking in a sincere interest in anything except their own concerns.

Which explains why the selfish are proverbially devoid of real friends.

They may be surrounded by flatterers, professing friendship in extravagant terms, for reasons which themselves have the taint of selfishness. Let a test come and the flatterers fall away, as beasts of prey flee at the least sign of danger.

Altogether different is the experience of the truly friendly in a time of stress.

Helping hands are gladly extended to them, often extended unexpectedly. And so numerous may the offers of assistance be that the one sorely in need of help may be moved gratefully and joyously to exclaim:

"I never dreamed I had so many friends."

Day in and day out, moreover, the friendly profit from their friendliness. It aids them in the universal quest for happiness, it aids them in the winning of success.

I am reminded of a certain uncommonly successful merchant, who, asked to what he owed his uncommon success, promptly made answer:

"To other people."

Undoubtedly he could never have succeeded as he did had he not enjoyed in unusual degree the co-operation of others, of employees and of customers. But this in turn he owed to unusual friendliness on his own part, creative of abundant good-will in employees and customers alike.

"As you sow you are like to reap," holds true of personal returns as of the harvests of the fields.

Selfishness is a weed that, sown, can produce in its turn only weeds discomfiting to the sower. From friendliness springs friendliness, commensurate with the quality of the friendliness sown.

Be friendly—be genuinely friendly. That is the wisest of all courses for you to adopt, for your own good and for the good of mankind.

BOOTLEGGERS TO PAY U. S. BIG PROPERTY TAX

Internal Revenue Collector Goodcell Starts Campaign on Liens

Instructions were received yesterday by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodcell to hold hearings on all cases affecting bootleggers before new assessments against them are listed by the revenue bureau. Assessments which have been made up to last October will remain on the books and will be enforced.

Liens on the property of six hundred bootleggers have been filed, and after hearings warrant of distraint will be issued and property seized. The assessments are in addition to the criminal fines imposed by the federal courts and run from $500 to $2500 each. A determined drive will be inaugurated next week to enforce the payment of penalties which have already been listed. Every bootlegger will be given an opportunity to submit an offer of compromise and where this is not done the full penalty will be collected. In all cases the liens filed against a bootlegger remain indefinitely against any property he may possess now or hereafter. If he has no property and wishes to purchase a house on the partial payment plan no one will accept a mortgage on the property for the unpaid balance until the government lien is satisfied.

In cases where the bootlegger fails to file an offer of compromise he will be summoned to attend a hearing of his case. He may, if he desires, be represented by an attorney, while a prohibition officer will prosecute for the government in order to head off hearings, more than 200 bootleggers have called at the internal revenue and submitted offers of compromise. The bootlegger drive which will start next week will be an intensive one and will extend over three months.

“I took the telephone operator out fishing with us,” said Bowers. “She had just got her line in when a big bass pulled it, pole and all, into the water.”

“What did she do?” inquired Loveland, with considerable interest. “She munched her gum for a few minutes, then said placidly, ‘The line is busy.’”

Courtesy opens many doors and lack of courtesy leaves them open.

JAMES W. FOLEY

THE BOSS

To be boss of the job, that is fine;
To have it all down to the letter;
To be boss of this spirit of mine,
Is something to me that is better.
To tell other men what to do,
It puts you in mighty fine fettle,
But to make me obey and come through,
Is the thing that puts me on my mettle.

To be boss of myself, that is best,
To make me do just what I ought to,
And when I lose ardor and zest,
To make me do work, for I've got to.
To keep me straight, honest and true,
Right down to the pattern to pin me,
And to scorn what I ought not to do,
Yes, that tests the stuff that is in me.

And others may reach the top shelf,
Some weakness may stop me and stay me;
But I'd like to be boss of myself,
And when I give orders, obey me;
Give others the thrill and the throb
Of bossing, and let them go to it;
But let me stand up to my job,
And be a real man while I do it.

BUSINESS WOMEN'S CABINET MEETING IS HELD

A meeting of the cabinet of the Business and Professional Women's club was held at the club house at 126 South Maryland avenue Tuesday noon, over which the president, Dr. Laura Brown, presided, others present being Dr. Caroline Payne-Jackman, Mrs. Peggy Warner, Mrs. Mary Baxter, Mrs. Grace Yerburgh, Miss Sara Pollard, Miss Clara Sayre, Mrs. Williams, Miss Gibbs and Miss Ethel Knapp.

Reports were received from the treasurer and the chairman of the various committees, including the membership committee, of which Mrs. Mary Baxter is chairman. She reported twelve applications for membership as follows: Miss Olive Middleton, Miss Mabel Edwards, Mrs. Nora Slocum, Mrs. Ethel Hiddell, Miss Leota Snyder, Miss Katherine Veitch, Miss Esther Veitch, Miss Gertrude Eldens and Miss H. Bennett, Mrs. Jane E. Gilbert, Mrs. Angeline Brooks, Miss Alta Mae Arnold.

Announcement was made of the convention of the County Federation of Business Women's Clubs to be held in May, to which the Glendale club will be entitled to send seven delegates, also of the nominating blanks for officers of the federation which the Glendale club has been asked to fill out.

On motion of Miss Gibbs the cabinet appointed a committee composed of Dr. Laura Brown, Mrs. Peggy Warner and Dr. Caroline Payne-Jackman to recommend nominations for officers of the federation and Glendale delegates to the convention, to be acted upon at the regular business meeting of the club next Tuesday evening.

Announcement was made that the business session referred to will be a supper served at 6:15 at the club house, for which all members who will attend are asked to make reservations through Dr. Laura Brown or by telephoning the club. The supper will be followed by a musical program at 7:30, a business session, and an adjournment to the Glendale Telephone company to inspect the operation of the plant under a special guide.

HOSPITAL BOND ISSUE DRIVE IS TAKEN UP

Luncheon Clubs Are Reported Rallying to Need of the Hour

The luncheon clubs of the county are rallying with whole-hearted enthusiasm to the support of the campaign in favor of the county bond issue, to be voted upon May 1. Speakers will appear at the regular meetings during the next four weeks to explain the necessity for additions at the county hospital, farm, Olive View sanatorium and the construction of a new county jail.

Not only will the clubs provide speakers, but the members of the county board of supervisors will appear and urge the support of these bonds.

“We must bring the facts to the attention of the voters,” declared Frank T. Wiggins of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce today. “It is not a question of the necessity of these additions. The necessity is generally admitted by all who know of the conditions. The task is to bring to the attention of the people at large the serious overcrowding at the hospital and farm and the great handicaps these conditions impose upon all relief work.”

Women's clubs are strongly backing the bond campaign. Due to their previous efforts and interest in county charitable conditions, they are fully aware of the urgent need for relief.

COLORADO FATHERS TO BE ENTERTAINED

A very interesting program has been arranged by Bert Woodard, Dr. F. N. Arnold and L. C. Leeds for “Fathers' Night” at the Colorado Parent-Teacher Association, which will be held at the school Thursday, April 5, at 7:30 o'clock. The program will include: Readings, by Joe Griffin; vocal selections, by Harry Girard; sleight-of-hand, A. R. Tuckering; a surprise number. Refreshments will be served. Small children will be cared for during the program.

The counsel of a lady plaintiff in a divorce case pleaded incompatibility of temper and represented the husband's character as “brutal, violent and passionate.” The husband's counsel described the lady as “spiteful, angry, waspish.” At this point the judge interferred. “I beg your pardon, gentlemen, but really I do not quite see where the incompatibility of temper comes in.”
